This video will bring the days to life!

This brief video will provide more inspiration and information about these Vision Zero driver days.

Take a look and then book your free place at this fabulous event.

Continental is working toward a world with Zero accidents, Zero Injuries and zero fatalities. But we need you to join us on our journey to safer roads.

IAM RoadSmart supports Continental on this ambitious campaign and recognises young people are particularly vulnerable when it comes to road safety, with young novice drivers at a much greater risk of being involved in a crash. Continental's Vision Zero Live events will put you very much in the driving seat, with a series of compelling driving modules to highlight the role of driver experience, awareness and tyre safety. You will get to experience on track the important role of tyres on wet roads when braking counts, putting our tyres to the test. See some of the future car technology in action that Continental produces, and also getting your first IAM RoadSmart introduction to advanced driving skills and techniques in your very own car.

Throughout the day you will be guided by our professional team of drivers, as you experience for yourself just how important road safety awareness is.

Join Continental and IAM RoadSmart at VisionZero Live. The day is free for young drivers so if you know any young drivers who may benefit from this amazing experience then please use the link below to find out more and to book their place.

Format of the days

A series of 50 minute practical driving and theory modules conducted in your own car as well as in specialist cars provided by Continental Tyres

- An introduction to IAM RoadSmart advanced driving skills
- Driving experts on hand to help you throughout the day
- Full details including maps of the event and agendas can be found by clicking the links

Terms and conditions

There are very limited spectator or viewing facilities so family and friends sadly cannot attend these days.

The event days are free so please only book a place once you are certain that the young driver can attend on the day. The Vision Zero events represent a significant investment in driver road safety and any no show by participants may incur a charge.

There will be document checks and signed declarations for licence details, MOT and car tax. Full details and conditions can be found on the booking page.
